DECISION AGAINST FORD, PAN-HARD AND OTHERS.

by automobile manufacturers was rendered yesterday by Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court in the suits for infringement of patent claims instituted by the Electric Vehicle Company and George B. Selden against the Ford Motor Company and C. A. Duerr & Co., O. J. Gude Company, John Wanamaker, the Société Anonyme des Anciens Etablissements, Panhard & Levassor and A great deal of significance is attached. Panhard & Levassor and André Massenat and Henry and A. Patent claims number one, two and five, eld by the plaintiffs, the Court holds to been infringed by the Ford machine and claims one and five by the Panhard.

Patent claim number one, which is regarded as the most important and of which the Ford and Panhard machines are held to be infringements, is as follows: "The combination with a road locomotive provided with suitable running gear, including a propelling wheel and steering mechanism, of a liquid hydrocarbon gas engine of the compression type comprising one or more power cylinders, a suitable liquid fuel receptacle, a power shaft connected with and arranged to run faster than the propelling wheel, an intermediate clutch or disconnecting determediate clutch or disconnecting device and a suitable carriage body adapted to the conveyance of persons or goods, substantially as described."

Patent claim No. 2, of which it is held that the Ford machine only is an infringement, varies from No. 1 only in requiring the "suitable carriage body to be "located above the engine." The laim numbered five sets forth substantially the same combination, but describes The general allegation of the com-

"This statement of complainants' position," says Judge Hough, "seems sufficient to show that the subject matter of these suits is the modern gasolene automobile The defendants are severally the manufacturer, seller and user of the Ford machine, a well known American make, and the maker and importer of the Panhard, a celebrated and typical French Panhard, a celebrated and typical French product. If these defendants infringe it is because complainants own a patent so fundamental and far reaching as to cover every modern car driven by any form of petroleum vapor and as yet commercially successful."

Judge Hough holds that the complainants are entitled to a decree on the principle that it is immaterial whether there is delay in the applicant taking out his patent rights so long as the statute law is not violated. He concludes:

"If I have correctly apprehended it, there was clearly room for a pioneer

"If I have correctly apprehended it, there was clearly room for a pioneer patent, and it must now be held that on its face and in view of the art Selden's is such a patent., This means that Selden is entitled to a broad range of equivalents, and this rule as applied here results in this crucial inquiry: Was Selden (or any one else) entitled in 1879 to appropriate as one of the elements of any patentable combination a 'liquid, hydro-carbon gas engine' of the compression type?"

Mr. Ford of the Ford Motor Company last night authorized the statement that an appeal in the case would be taken to the highest courts and would be fought to the finish.

enly known method of securing a will is to employ the most skilful of professional experts to draw the will in the first instance, or to vouch for its accuracy before death renders amendment impossible."

That was a bit of advice given to the financiers in attendance at the trust company section by Daniel S. Remsen, in an address on "The Post-mortem Administration of Wealth." Mr. Remsen is a member of the New York bar and author of the work entitled "Remsen on the Preparation and Contest of Wills."

"Death is the great conveyancer," declared Attorney Remsen. "In our own country alone property to the value of billions of dollars passes each year under some form of post-mortem administration.

In the preparation of no legal document is the inaccurate use or location of a word or phrase more serious than in will. Under the most favorable conditions every person experiences difficulty in writing the English language so as to convey his exact meaning beyond the possibility of a misunderstanding or a double reading. In testamentary writing this difficulty is increased tenfold, for the writer must look into the future and prepare an instrument which is to deal with such conditions as time may bring to the testator, his family and estate."

A decision awaited with keen interest Mr. Williams's appointment, it is said,

A great deal of significance is attached by politicians here to the prospective retirement of Mr. Williams from the place at the head of the Republican State committee in the President's home State. It is regarded as indicatory that friends of Mr. Taft are looking ahead to the gubernatorial campaign next year when it is expected that Gov. Harmon will be a candidate for reelection on the Democratic ticket. It is regarded as of the highest importance that Ohio shall elect a Republican Governor a year hence, as it is known make Onio a debatable State at the quadrennial elections two years later.

Reports received here are to the effect that Gov. Harmon is making a good record in the Governor's chair, is looking ahead, and has hopes of higher honors. It is understood that a strong man will be named to succeed Mr. Williams as chairnat the Ford machine only is an iningement, varies from No. 1 only in

Men's Autumn Hats

The Straw Hat season for 1909 is closed.

Enter Soft Hats and Derbies. Our first thought touches "Wafer Flex" Derbies because they inspire our pardonable pride.

$2.74: that's the price. And unless you dissect quality you'll remain in ignorance of how much Hat value we've placed at your command at that modest figure. When seeking a basis for intelligent comparison, use the Hats sold by others at $3.50.

Wafer Flex Derbies are made of fine fur felt; highly calendered. Such softness and glossiness as theirs could only come from solid honest, basic materials. A shallow surface polish would never do. Best of silk trimmings.

We have a special Derby that has graced thousands of thrifty heads. Also made of fur felt, with silk band and binding and best imported sweats. We sell this line at $1.88 and it follows the curve of brim and height of crown and duplicates the quality and finish of the ones sold elsewhere at $2.50 and $3.00. Our $3.49 and $4.49 Derbies not surpassed at any prices.

Soft Hats, $1.88, $2.49, $2.74

"How much?" you ask, indicating a Hat that has caught your fancy. Likelier than not the answer will be $2.50, or $3.00, or $3.50, if the question is asked in 'round-town stores. Our prices for the same styles and qualities are $1.88, $2.49

The variety of shapes and the diversity of trimmings and the din of colors-they cut off descriptions; too many.

Boys' and Children's Hats Second Floor.

We are not going to claim the "largest and best stock in the city," because that is the universal claim; and somebody is bound to be mistaken.

But we do claim to sell all the newest headgear for Boys and Children at from ten to towenty per cent. less than others ask.

Jack Tars, made of firm cloths and serges, with Hudson-Fulton bands, 49c.

49c. 99c and $1.39 Wool Felt Jack Tars, Mexican and other shapes, colored silk bands and trimmed in fresh ways. Beaver Middies and Jack Tars and various other styles, trimmed with silk, $3.69. Sold elsewhere at $4.00 and $4.50. $1.29 for Patent Leather Tarpaulins, round and square crowns, for boys and girls. Our own importations; our own prices.

Fall Wear

The Browning, King & Company models in Men's Suits and Overcoats for the Fall of 1909 are now ready and present an especially attractive showing of new patterns in absolutely allwool fabrics.

We do not know of any more modish or better made clothing than ours. Our perfectly tailored, well-fitting garments cost a third less than for equal quality in custom made goods.

Suits, $15 to $35. Overcoats, $15 to $45.
